

International Student Program

Nelly Johansson

Submitted by Jing Liu

Nelly has been such a welcomed and vital part of the International Programs Office through her work as a student worker. She initially expressed interest in marketing and social media, and I don't think it's hyperbole to say that she's been the key contributor to the social media accounts for both International Student Support Program and Study Abroad. As a worker, she is detail-oriented, diligent, organized and creative. As a human being, she's growth-minded, responsible, curious and kind. Nelly has demonstrated interest and commitment in her area of study (marketing), gained and provided invaluable hands-on experience, and will continue to do so by pursuing a marketing position during her Optional Practical Training next year.
